| Artist | Eimear Kavanagh |
| Workshop | Explore! Colour, Pattern & Symbols |
| Details | The morning session will explore the meaning of ancient Aboriginal Art. Together, we will look at the use of symbols and how they were used as a means for communication, why they were used and how they made their colour. We'll also look at frequent symbols that were used and have a go at making our own as a group. Using pen and paper, Eimear will demonstrate how the symbols can be repeated into patterns. Children will then be encouraged to make their own individual stories on paper. The afternoon session will involve making canvases. Each child will have a small canvas on which they can make their paintings, using the design and inspiration from the morning session. Eimear will give demonstrations of dotting, patterns, lines and hatching, by using paint to create abstract art. Towards the end of the session we can look and reflect upon the artworks and see if we can read the stories from them. |
